FWB COUPLE CHARGED WITH CYBERSTALKING

A Fort Walton Beach couple has been charged with cyberstalking in connection with a month long dispute with a neighbor.

Deputies arrested 28-year year old Mindy Barton Olds and 37-year old Nicholas Olds of 1818 Madelons Path on February 19th.

The 30 year old victim, who owns a home at 1817 Madelons Path, says between November 24 and December 17th 2015, the couple intentionally targeted her and potential renters visiting her home. Messages, including "Flood Zone 1817", or the victim's name and address, were written in spray paint and chalk on the roadway in front of or near the victim's property. Signs were posted on the public right of way and the defendants' property, specifically targeting the victim by including her numerical address and directing readers to Google the address on the internet. Approximately 18 videos were posted to YouTube, showing the couple was watching the home and/or waiting for someone to arrive. Deputies say the pair was involved in the recording and in harassing at least one potential renter. The woman told deputies she decided not to lease the house after an encounter at the property with Nicholas and Mindy Olds. She says Nicholas Olds was recording her when she arrived and he and his wife were using chalk to write things that included the home's address around the cul-de-sac. When she asked them to stop she said they told her they were never going to stop doing it.

The couple said the dispute began because the woman was speeding in the neighborhood and they were concerned about their children.

The victim and family members say they have made arrangements to sell the property in lieu of renting based upon the past harassment and not wanting to return to the property due to fear of future harassment.

[STATEMENT OF PROBABLE CAUSE / NARRATIVE]

On November 29th, 2015 an investigation was began in reference to a stalking complaint which is occurring at 1817 Madelon's Path, Fort Walton Beach, involving the victim Mindi Godfrey and the defendant Mindy Olds. The investigation covered a time period from November 14, 2015 through December 17, 2015.

The allegations are the defendant has committed a course of conduct during the time period, intentionally targeting the victim and/or persons visiting her residence, with no legitimate purpose. Several messages were written in spray paint and chalk on the roadway in front or near the victim's property, specifically directed toward 1817 by including the numeric's for the residence or the victim's name being included in the message. Signs have been posted on the public right of way and the defendant's own property, specifically targeting the victim by including the victim's numerical address. A sign was placed on the defendants property requesting to look up the address on the internet. The internet shows approximately 18 videos, the defendant and her husband, a co-defendant, have recorded and posted, showing them specifically watching the residence, waiting for someone to arrive. The videos show the messages they have written and have shown to be in the act of writing the messages. The defendant has been involved in the recording and contact with potential renters for the victim's property, believing it to be the victim, harassing the person, who then refused to move in to the property because of the harassment. During one the recorded the incidents, the defendant made the statement she would "never stop fucking with her", referring to the victim.

The basis for the defendant's action in the videos are claims to confront the victim about a speeding incident in the neighborhood. However, research shows no specific complaint was made to law enforcement, from the defendant, about the victim and her driving. Several of the videos refer back to the defendant's original complaint which occurred between the victim and the defendant, and the victim's response during the argument. The video makes no complaints of any speeding issues after the first initial incident, showing the purpose of the videos is not to address a legitimate complaint but to harass the victim. None of the videos display a message or complaint about any other person or resident other than the victim.

The victim and family of the victim have made arraignments to sell the property in lieu of renting based upon the harassment by the defendant and the stress of not wanting to have to return to the property because of fear of future harassment by the defendant.

The defendant has readily admitted to committing all of the listed acts.

Based upon the review of the video's posted, the information provided by the victim and witnesses, I have reasonable grounds to believe the defendant Mindy Olds has engaged in a course of conduct directed at the victim, causing substantial emotional distress to the victim and serving no legitimate purposes in direct violation of Florida Statute 784.048 to wit Stalking. This incident occurred in Okaloosa County, State of Florida, where I am a full time bonded law enforcement officer.
